USA Patriot Act vs. Your FREEDOM

Tell Congress to Restore Reader Privacy Today!

The USA Patriot Act threatens your privacy in bookstores and libraries. It gives the FBI the power to apply to a secret court for an order compelling the surrender of records of the books you purchase or borrow. The government does not have to produce any evidence that you are a terrorist—or even that you are suspected of any crime! The order also gags booksellers and librarians, making it illegal to reveal that your records have been searched.

We, the undersigned, urge our representatives in Congress to support legislation that amends Section 215 of the Patriot Act to restore the privacy of our bookstore and library records.
